Eligibility of refugees and asylum seekers

1. Asylum seekers are individuals who are seeking international protection who claim origin or habitual residence. Refugees are people who have been granted international protection and have been given permission to stay. Asylum seekers are not usually eligible for ESF support, but refugees are.

2. Asylum seekers are not generally allowed to work while their claims are being decided. However, since February 2005, they have been allowed to apply for permission to work if they have waited for over a year for an initial decision on their asylum claim or further submissions.

3. If the asylum seeker’s claim has been rejected, they may request permission to work if they have made asylum-based further submissions which have been outstanding for more than 12 months.

4. Where asylum seekers have been given permission to work they will normally be able to access the full range of ESF support.

5. Asylum seekers who do not have permission to work may be supported through ESF pre-vocational provision which might take the form of:
   - Initial English for speakers of other languages, other basic skills (literacy, numeracy and IT) where they are not part of provision that is designed to lead to employment.
   - Orientation provision to raise awareness of UK labour market needs asylum seekers’ rights and responsibilities.
   - Provision of information about further education and voluntary work they can take part in.
   - General advice about life in Britain for those given leave to remain (information about law, culture, housing, welfare, health, educating and employment).
   - Involvement in voluntary activity.

6. Those individuals whose asylum claim is deemed to be unfounded and have not obtained permission to work may only be supported by ESF in the following circumstances:
   - Where they have signed up to return home as soon as they can and are taking all reasonable steps to leave the UK and that they meet one of the following criteria.
   - Where they are unable to leave due to physical impediment to travel or other medical condition.
