

Infrastructure and Low Carbon Strategy

*Given the importance of it to the majority of students: NUS survey over three years found more than 80% of students think sustainable development should be actively incorporated and promoted by universities.